I am running for State House Representative in Arizona's Legislative District 19 to champion the interests of our large rural community at the Arizona State Capitol.

For too long, voters in Southern Arizona have been sidelined as power shifted away from at-risk rural communities and became centralized in Maricopa County—much like it has in Washington, D.C.

It's time to return to the American principle of limited, representative government that is closest to the people, prioritizing the needs of Arizonans and putting Arizona first.
